The Peculiar Suit Which Will Soon Come Up for Trial. Attorneys J. A. Hale and James F. Getty left last evening for Lincoln, Neb., to take depositions in the case of Stover against Stover. He says as soon as they got possession of the deeds they made him work as an ordinary farm hand. He continued to do this until 1891, when his feeble condition would not permit him to work. He claims that they never half clothed him, and that he was deprived all the time of any of the luxuries of life. It was all he could do to get clothes enough to hide his skin.

Beside this he alleges that his sens treated him in a most cruel manner. They even refused to allow him to say the blessing at the table, notwithstanding he had done so for forty years prior to that time. He says that he is now almost blind; that when the cataracts first began to grow over his eyes he urged his sons to give him sufficient money to have them treated, but they absolutely refused. The plaintiff asks that the deed given by him to his sons in 1879 he canceled and that he be given possession of the farm.

Arsente in the Stomachs of Mrs. McCullough and Her Child.

Coroner Stevens yesterday received a re-

Coroner Stevens yesterday received a report of the chemist who was appointed to analyze the stomachs of Mrs. George McCullough and her infant daughter, whom the officials suspected of having been polsoned. Last evening it was given out that arsente was found by the chemist in large quantities. Last Monday morning the Journal exclusively published the news of the arrest of McCullough. Since that time there has been no new developments in the case until yesterday. The whole affair hinged on the report of the chemist. Yesterday morning after the report had been handed to the coroner he impanelled a jury and began holding an inquest. The proceedings were kept secret. The inquest was held in a small room in the court house and a deputy sheriff was kept at the door to see that no one except witnesses entered. The witnesses were also kept separated and only one was allowed in the room at a time. The relatives and two neighbor women of the dead woman were examined. The coroner could not finish the examination last evening for the reason that two of the principal witnesses were in Kansas City, Mo., and could not be obtained. The officers expect to get service on them to-marrow. The inquest will be concluded then. will be concluded then.

depositions in the case of Stover against Stover. This interesting case will come up for trial in the district court next Friday. It is a battle between father and sons.

Jacob Stover was at one time a well to do farmer living in the vicinity of White Church. According to a petition filed in court recently he says he is almost a public mendicant. This condition of affairs he blames his two sons for.

The title of the case is Jacob Stover against Lewis and Harvey L. Stover. In the petition it is stated that the plaintiff at one time owned a large farm north of this city that was worth about $2.00. In 1870 it was well improved and stocked. The plaintiff was then getting old and his two sons, he alleges, persuaded him to transfer the land to them. It is claimed they told him that in order that he might retire from a long life of active toil and pass his declining years in rest, peace and enjoyment, surrounded by the ministering care and attention of two loving, affectionate and devoted sons, he could deed the property over to them and they would take such care of himself and wife as duifful sons usually do, in order to do as the sons wished he did transfer the property to them.

He says as soon as they got possession "Filter mine for Burial.

BUYING EXTENSIVELY. Major Drought Says He Is Investing for

Eastern Capitz ists. In speaking about the many purchases of property made recently by him in the West bottoms, Major E. S. W. Drought yes-"I have $100,000 to invest

I will invest the rest as soon as I can find the property which I consider a good investment for the parties who have placed the money in my hands for invest-ment."

KANSAS CITY, KAS.

NOON,

The ladies of the Muccabees installed these officers at their meeting at Sawyer's for some of my friends residing at Boston and Andover. Mass. I have so far invested $51,000 on Union avenue, St. Louis Avenue, a farm near White Church, the Hanser tract, in Old Kansas City, Kas, the Hanson tract, four lots on Wood street, south of Central avenue, and 120 feet on Central avenue, west of Wood, and Smith.

AN INTERESTING CASE WILL BE CALLED FOR TRIAL THIS WEEK.

Drought's Investments.

Carl F. Moss became of age recently and he came to this city to look up his property. To his surprise he found that it had been soid. He at once employed counsel, and as a result the suit was filed yeasterday to set aside the proceedings. It is claimed that the action taken by the guardian was not according to law, that no evidence was ever given in the case, that the sale of the property was not necessary for the education of the children, that neither he nor his sister ever received 1 cent from the proceeds of the sale, that the guardian's bondsmen were insolvent and that afterwards they became defaulters and fled from Texas to Canada. The plantiffs ask for an order cancelling the deed given to the defendants, and also for a judgment for $1.50 as rental for the land since 1854. Hiram Malotte was it Is One in Which an Aged Father Secks to Have Property Transferred Back A suit involving the title of eighty acres of valuable land, located at Vance, nine acres of valuable land near Vance. She cretia married a man by the name of Shortly after she made application in the ourts of Texas to be appointed guardian of the two children of Moss, but letters of court of this county to be appointed guardian to sell the real estate of her half brother and sister. She also filed petition alleging that it was necessary o sell the property in order to educate the two children. The wards owned threefourths of the interest in the land and Mrs. Relchart and her brother the other fourth. She was appointed guardian and the court also appointed appraisers and confirmed the appraisement and issued an order to sell the property at private sale all in one day. Before this was done the guardian had never taken the oath of office. She had, however, sent an alleged bond to this county from her home in Texas, which was $1,800 short of the amount required by law. The land was appraised at $2,400 and it was sold to Hiram and William R. Malotte at private sale at $1,80. This the guardian said was the highest bid for the children's three-fourths interest. The deed, so the petition states, was made and executed in Texas two weeks before the order of sale was made. Later the two children deeded their quarter interest in the land to the same persons, the consideration being $1,850.
